It may have been the whirl of the Santa Pe train across the desert, or it may have been something more adlling, but whatever the cause, two men alighted at the toral station yesterstay in a daffy condition. Home axid they were drunk. One wandered down in the Santa Fe yards, and his train ran away and left him. He was arrested and piloted into the police station. He wanted to see the Brit. ish consul and he wanted reparation. for the treatment he was receiving, but he got "$5." The other was really daffy. He thought that some for pursued him and drawing a knife from his pocket made a raid on the Alvarado veranda. The police put him on board a north bound train for Las Vegas.
